Francesca is a criminal barrister who regularly appears in the Crown Court and Magistrates' Court. Her practice encompasses a broad range of criminal matters, including violent offences, theft, drug offences, sexual offences, public order offences and driving offences.

Before joining 3TG Barristers, Francesca practised at the Public Defender Service, where she completed pupillage under the supervision of David Aubrey KC and subsequently secured tenancy in March 2026. During her time at the PDS, she developed substantial Crown Court experience, including jury trials, contested applications, sentencing hearings and cases involving complex evidential procedural issues.

Francesca has particular experience representing vulnerable defendants and individuals requiring intermediary assistance or consideration of fitness to plead. Her advocacy experience includes disclosure disputes, bad character applications, challenges to prosecution evidence and issues concerning procedural fairness.

Prior to commencing her career at the Bar, Francesca volunteered with the Innocence Project, assisting with investigations into alleged wrongful convictions and applications to the Criminal Cases Review Commission. She also has a professional background in human resources administration, which has contributed to her organisational, case management and client care skills.
